RE: Sesquicentennial Anniversary Celebration
Sunday, June 7, 2020
Downtown Russellville

PRESS RELEASE

June 7th is the 150 year anniversary of Russellville, Arkansas!

As a community, we should be excited about this milestone and want to mark the occasion with a celebration. Main Street Russellville, the A&P Commission, and The City of Russellville will be partnering to host a celebration in downtown Russellville on June 7th.

The celebration will include a Fireworks display at 8:30 p.m. and an air parade earlier in the day. We encourage all citizens of Russellville to bring the family out to watch these events.

To commemorate our 150th anniversary, we will be selling coins and ornaments to be purchased at the Train Depot.

Russellville's Sesquicentennial celebration is made possible through a UnionPacific Community Ties Giving Program grant received by Main Street Russellville.

Due to the Coronavirus, we have scaled back some of the events originally scheduled for this weekend, but will be hosting additional celebratory items in conjunction with Art Walk in July.

Plan on attending our 150 year celebration on June 7, 2020!
